Very nice skin! Very elegant and well made!! It comes with a heal ability which can be very helpful for later in the game when the bosses become cough tougher. The skin itself is already nice. It gives a few nice upgrades but what really matters is the heal ability Aurora gets which is something that helps you even waste LESS potions considering you have to look for those all over Lemuria -- But its a very beautiful skin and it gives a real nice ability. Buy it especially if its on sale!. If you can't find the skins after reinstalling, for example. They are in the game, you have to change her skin in the settings in the main menu. That is the only way to access them!. I found this really helpful when I first started the game since it allows you to upgrade your gear faster. I also like the different skin for Aurora.. The Light Aurora skin gives Aurora orange hair with a blue dress. Please keep in mind Aurora will still keep her default skin during dialogues, but it works for the rest of the game. Also this skin "overwrites" a "skin transformation" Aurora goes through at the very end of the game, which might ruin the scene a little bit.

I've never really used her healing spell. Maybe once or twice. Characters don't have a large MP pool in this game, so MP is pretty scarce in battle. That's why I prefer to preserve her MP for her Light spells and heal with the "white mage" instead. However, there are more than enough (non-tedious) ways to heal HP/VMP for free between the battles to compensate for the long run.

Despite it only being a Level 1 healing spell, its healing equals that of the Level 3 (max) healing spell of the "white mage". Even if the "white mage" happens to die, there are tons of potions you find in treasure chests for rare occasions like these (note: I never used any potion, except for 1 Revive, in my 2 playthroughs and I played on Expert and New Game+ Expert). I guess it can be nice in the first hour of the game where you don't have your "white mage" yet, but again there are enough potions and/or ways to heal outside of battle.

The rough oculi are very insignificant. You'll easily get over 100+ of those in a single playthrough so 3V2V2 is almost nothing. But I guess it's better than nothing.

Conclusion:

The healing spell isn't needed and the rough oculi are insignificant. Get it if you want the skin or if you have money to spare and really want the healing spell anyway.
